

Fire Weather Briefing

Early Tuesday, May 31, 2011

National Weather Service Amarillo

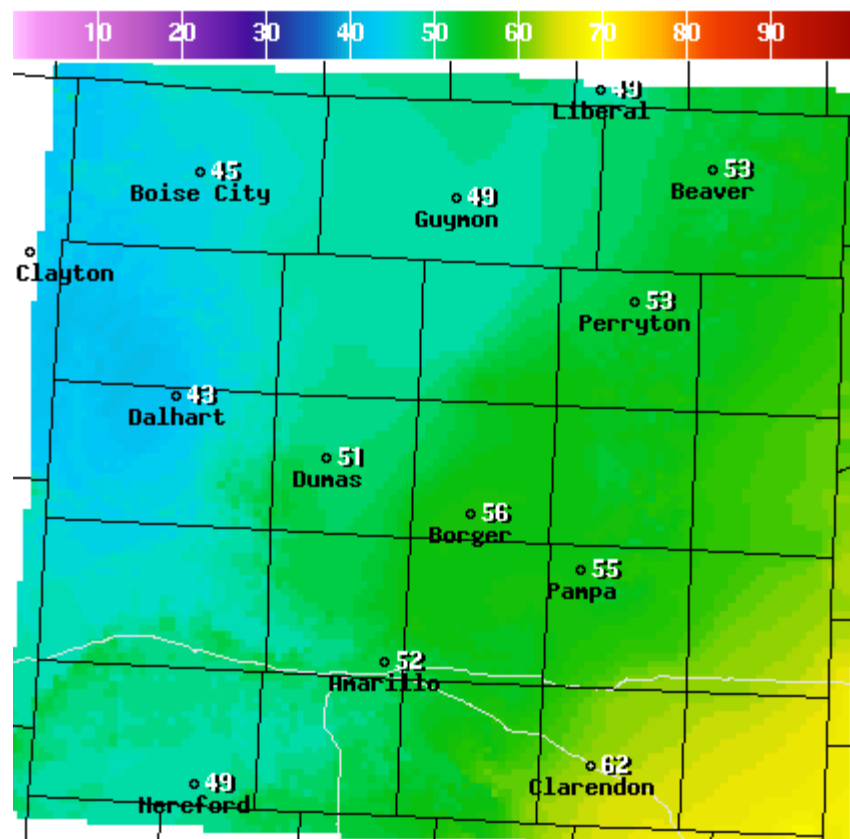

Cold Front

- Wind shift to northwesterly at around 10-20 mph
- Central Panhandles (Amarillo, Guymon, Borger) 1 AM-3 AM
- Eastern Panhandles (Beaver, Canadian, Wellington) 3 AM – 4 AM

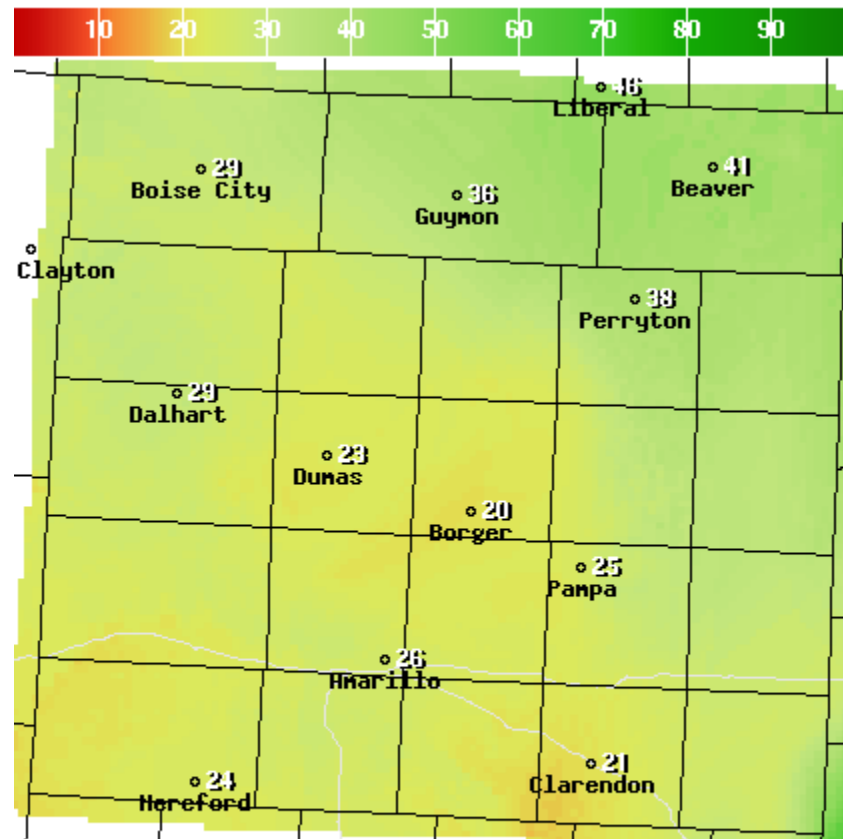

Tonight 5/30-31/2011

NWS Amarillo, TX
Graphic Created May 30 4:15PM CDT

Low Temps

NWS Amarillo, TX
Graphic Created May 30 4:24PM CDT

Max RH

Summary

- Overnight...
 - Fire weather conditions are not expected to reach critical levels overnight
 - Winds: South to Southwest 10-20 mph will turn to the northwest by sunrise
 - Relative humidities: will recover to around 20-30% west of dryline that will remain nearly stationary in the eastern Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles
 - 20-30% chance of thunderstorms east of the dryline overnight